Liquor in large quantities was found, bottled beer and whisky on ice, ready for use, and a regular, well-kept bar, in cou-nection with which a poker outfit was evidently conducted. The men in the house stampeded when the officers entered and three of them jumped from second-story windows. Anderson and McCann were two of those who jumped. The former jumped out on Water street, and was somewhat it jured, but managed to crawl away and hide McCann made his escape, but it is expected will be captured soon. Anderson returned to the place about an hour after the raid, supposing all the officers had gone, but Detective Carrigan had remained behind for the purpose, and Anderson walked right

Anderson was recently released from the workhouses where he was sent for his conection with the trial of Paddy McGraw for the murder of Tiny Sloan in Oyster Paddy's saloon, where Anderson was burkeeper. He bears a bad name in police circles, and so does his partner, McCann. An information for illegal selling will be entered against both men by Inspector Mc-Aleese to-day.

THEY PUT UP FORFEITS. The men who had been caught in the place put up torfeits for their appearance and were released. They gave their names as James Brown, Thomas Williams, John Green, Richard McCabe, William Wirkison, William Bennett, William Brown, George Nesbit, Joseph Bradden, J. S. Willison, J. R. Oliver, James Ferguson.

The man who gave his name as John Green is a police officer, who has been under suspension for some time. He tried to escape when he saw the officers, but was caught and taken to the station along with the rest. He will be discharged from the force for his conduct yesterday.

Yesterday morning Michael Scanlon and Baldy Brough got drunk in a Second avenue speak-easy and then went out on the street to fight. During this argument Brough was laid out with a beer bottle, with which Scanlon pounded him over the head and broke his nose. After the fight Scanlon staggered up as far as the Panhandle Railroad crossing and leaned against a treight car. Just as he did so the train moved and Scanlon feil; his hand being outstretched to save him caught the rail just in time for one of the car wheels to pass over it, cutting off all the fingers. LEADING THE METHODISTS.

The Butler Street School Shows Up Well in Missionary Collections.

The Butler Street Methodist Episcopal Sunday School subscribed $873 85 yesterday for the cause of foreign missions. This sum is unprecedented in the history of Sunday school collections in this denomination in Six years ago the Sunday school and church gave $400. The marked growth in o'clock. the missionary subscriptions at the Butler Street M. E. Sunday School is owing to the unremitting labors of Mr. S. Hamilton, who has been superintendent for the past six years. His energy has not been concentrated merely to develop the financial dona-tions, but also to attain to the highest pinnacle in numerical strength. There are now enrolled some 1,200 children on the books. These 1,200 scholars have subscribed on an average over 90 cents apiece.

This increase over former years has been accemplished under a great strain. On every hand there have been improvements in the property, and within the last six years at least $20,000 has been subscribed for beautifying and enlarging the church

CONFIRMING CONVERTS.

The Rites of the Church Administered to Twenty Ex-Lutherans. Yesterday morning Bishop Phelan conferred the sacrament of confirmation upon some 180 persons in St. Michael's Catholic Curch, Southside. Of these 160 were childreu and the remainder Germans, who have become converts to Catholicity. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers and the banners of the various confraternities. In the afternoon the Bishop proceeded to St. Joseph's Church, on Mount Oliver, where he administered similar rites to a great many, including several German converts. All these Germans have been lately received into the Catholic church, and during the past few months have been under the spiritual direction of the Passionist Fathers. It is owing to the strenuous efforts which the Passionists have been making this year and last that the great number of converts is due. The Germans belonged principally to the Lutheran persuasion.

ANOTHER ITALIAN MISSION.

The Congregation in This City Growing Larger Each Week

Another Italian Mission will be held in this city. At yesterday morning's service in his church Rev. Father Giacomo Annovazzi, the Italian priest, announced to his congregation that a missionary father from New York would arrive in the city to-day or to-morrow and hold semi-missionary services. The latter will be held in the church in the basement of St. Paul's Ca-thedral each evening. The congregation is growing weekly, and the many Catholic Italians who had fallen away from grace are being brought back to the church. The congregation has grown so large that it was found necessary to have two masses each

The Wiry Agent Ready to Ge Forth and Tackle the Earth-A Business That Pays Some People Very Well. "The book agent is a godsend to the pub lie," said the manager of an instalment house yesterday. "There is many a man VERY COMPLETE BAR UNEARTHED. occupying a prominent position to-day who never would have attained sufficient education to put him there, were it not for the book solicitor's importuning in placing be-fore him the literature he required. It is hard to understand the distaste there is among really competent solicitors to take up the book trade. There is no reason why MIKE SCANLON'S TOUGH EXPERIENCE it should not be as respectable as the occuand another man named McCann, at the corner of Market and Water streets, Oyster pation of any other commercial solicitor or drummer, and it can be made to pay just as well as other drumming work. Just now we want good men to sell Bibles on the instalment plan and we cannot get them."

"On what conditions do you sell Bibles on this plan?" "Well, take a $14 family Bible. When the agent takes an order for this edition, he son, Fitzgerald, Carrigan, Captains Silvus arranges with the purchaser to pay-say & down on delivery and $2 every month until it is paid for. A contract is signed under which the book is leased to the purchaser speak-easy was being carried on at this place and it remains our property until paid for. Our agents work among the middle class of people, and it is very seldom indeed that a Bible is returned on our hands owing to non-fulfillment of contract." 'How do you pay your agents?"

"Always on commission. They get 25 per cent on the amount of the sale and 10 per cent for collecting outstanding instal-ments afterward. A fairly intelligent man can easily earn $50 per week, and you can see that on this commission, if he sells but one Bible a day,he can make $20 per week." The book selling season may be said to have fairly opened. With the return to town of holiday seekers the book agent girths up his loins and enters the market or the best selling books. The merchant and manufacturer, professional man and storekeeper know of his coming with the fall of the leaf, and while putting an ad-ditional knot on his purse strings, hardens his heart against the blandishments of his tormentor, and glances askance at the dapper young man who enters unannounced with the request for "two minutes conversa-tion, it you please."

While the ordinary run of book solicitors are perhaps possessed with too much assur-ance, there are many men of fine address and good manners engaged in the business whose natural acuteness and knowledge of men and things stand them in good stend. Such men as these latter are in receipt of incomes all the way from $2,500 to $15,000 per annum, the latter figure representing the salary of Mr. Fowkes, Scribner's agent, for the sale of the Encyclopædia Brittanica. Men whose names have become historical in American annals were at one period of their existence solicitors for publishing houses or book agents' as, for example, Washington, Garfield, Grant and James G Blaine, and the great Napoleon during his early career

AN OLD LAWYER GONE.

William McCullough Darlington Dies at the Age of 72.

On Saturday night death removed one of the oldest inhabitants of Pittsburg from the scene of his labors. Mr. Wm. McCullough Darlington had been ailing for over two years and had been unable to leave his home ever since he received the new Pittsburg Court House in behalf of the people. He was a member of the Pittsburg Bar Association longer than any of his

Mr. Darlington was born in Pittsburg in 1815. His father was Benjamin Darling-ton, a Quaker, who resided in Pittsburg, and the maiden name of his mother was Miss Agnes McCullough. He received a complete education in the Jefferson College, now the Washington and Jefferson College, and then studied law under Richard Biddle. He practiced at the bar until 1856, when he self to his books.

When he married Mary Carson O'Hara he received a considerable dowry with his wile, and this, along with his own money, was so advantageously invested that at his death he was worth probably $1,000,000. They have three children, one boy and two

Mr. Darlington was of a retiring disposition, and an inveterate bookworm. He would read in his library for hours, and had collected the finest private library west of the Allegheny Mountains. He has collected at least 11,000 books. His favorite study was early American history, and during the latter days of his life, he was busily engaged writing historical accounts of these early times. Sickness put a stop to his work, and none of his manuscripts have yet been published.

Mr. Darlington had been ailing for the last two years, and at last succumbed to a variety of stomach troubles. His funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon at 3

THE HARVEST PEAST.

A Pretty Service Observed in the Trinity Lutheran Church.

The annual harvest feast was celebrated vesterday in Trinity Ryangelical Lutheran Church on Stockton avenue. It is a feast of thanksgiving. Rev. Dr. Goettman, the pastor, preached in the forenoon. In the afternoon Rev. David S. Kennedy, of the First Presbyterian Church of Allegheny, talked to the children on the missionary spirit. Holy communion was administered after that service. In the evening a praise service was held, in which music was the chief feature. An address was delivered by Rev. W. E. Main. Songs of rejoicing were a feature of all the services of the day.

THEIR SILVER WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. Holtzbeimer Celebrate the Event by Remarrying. Last Thursday Mr. Jos. Holtzheimer, the well-known livery and undertaking man of Sharpsburg, observed his silvery wedding in an elaborate manner. Grand high mass was celebrated at 9 A. M., three priests officiating, and afterward Mr. and Mrs. Holtzheimer were remarried by the Rev. Father Schwab. An elegant banquet was served the guests, and dancing was indulged in till about midnight. Mr. and Mrs. Holtzheimer received some very costly presents, and were heartily congratulated by all their friends.

THE FIREMEN PLACED Chief Brown Announces the Positions Under the New Regime.

SOME CHANGES HAVE BEEN MADE.

A Force of Laddies Promised That Will Do Great Work at Fires.

AN ERROR OF DR. MERCUR'S CORRECTED

The complete list of the city firemen as they will be under Chief Brown's reorganization, which goes into effect to-morrow, was given out by Chief Brown yesterday, and is printed below. The list shows quite a number of changes among the old men who are retained, as, for instance, Captain William Richardson, of No. 4 engine company, is transferred to the same position in No. 11, while Captain John Lennix, of that company, takes Richardson's place in No. 4; Captain George King, of No. 13, is transferred to No. 3, to the same position; John Wrigley, stoker on No. 5, is transferred to No. 4, and numerous other changes have been made in the various positions throughout the entire department. Under the re-organization each company has a lieutenant who, as in all disciplined organizations, ranks next to the captain, that rank formerly belonging to the engineer.

In regard to the changes made Chief Brown simply said: "Such changes as have been made were for the benefit of the ser-We expected to have a great improvement, and the men have been placed where we think they will do the most good." The only person who was dropped from the list and reinstated was Isaac Craig, of the list and reinstated was Isaac Craig, of No. 10. He was dropped by Dr. Mercur by mistake. The Doctor got his lists mixed, and Craig's name appeared as incapacitated, but he appealed to the Chiet, showing his papers of examination to be perfect, and he was reinstated. The firemen and the positions they are to occupy are as follows: HOW THE LADDIES ARE PLACED.
